[illegible]

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely Hebrew or Arabic, arranged in approximately 12 horizontal lines. The text is written on a dark, irregularly shaped fragment of parchment or paper, which is heavily stained and discolored. The script is dense and flowing, with some characters appearing to be in a different script or dialect. The fragment is set against a plain, light-colored background.

The image shows a fragment of an ancient stone inscription. The text is written in a cuneiform script, which appears to be Akkadian or Sumerian. The inscription is arranged in several horizontal lines. The characters are somewhat stylized and vary in size, suggesting a mix of different words or grammatical elements. The stone surface is heavily eroded and pitted, particularly around the edges and between the lines of text. The overall appearance is that of a well-preserved but weathered archaeological find.
